CELEBRATE LIBRARY CARD SIGN-UP MONTH WITH THE BOCA RATON PUBLIC LIBRARY IN SEPTEMBER

BOCA RATON, FL (August 11, 2022) – In September, the Boca Raton Public Library joins the American Library Association and public libraries nationwide to encourage everyone to sign up for the most important card of all—a free library card! Boca Raton Mayor Scott Singer will be issuing a proclamation declaring that September is Library Card Sign-Up Month in the City of Boca Raton and urges all residents to sign up for a library card at one of the two Boca Raton Public Library branches.

In celebration of Library Card Sign-Up Month, the Boca Raton Public Library is launching four new library card designs! These bright, colorful cards feature Florida wildlife, including manatees, sea turtles, Florida panthers, and herons. City of Boca Raton residents are encouraged to select their favorite design when they sign up for a free library card (after showing proof of City residency). Current cardholders can also trade in their old card for a new one. Visit bocalibrary.org for more information on obtaining a library card.

“The Boca Raton Public Library has four terrific libraries all in one—the Spanish River Library, the Downtown Library, Mobile Library Services, and the Digital Library,” notes Laura Sparrow, Account Services Librarian. “At the Spanish River Library or the Downtown Library, cardholders can check out books, movies, puzzles and games, and interactive kits; take a chess class; use WiFi, computers or printers; attend a storytime or book club; or find a nice place to study/work/meet. The Mobile Library Services team takes popular library programs out to parks, schools, community centers, and other partner locations. The Digital Library provides 24/7 access to online books, audiobooks, news, magazines, genealogy and investment research. Take an online language, technology or crafting class, download music, or stream popular apps Kanopy and Hoopla to watch on your Smart TV. Any way you choose to visit the Library, you can access the best of entertainment and lifelong learning. It’s a great value!”

In addition to these benefits, new and current Boca Raton Public Library cardholders get a special bonus from Florida Atlantic University! Their card enables them to attend the Florida Atlantic University football game on September 10, 2022, against Southeastern Louisiana for the special rate of only $5 per ticket. The Boca Raton Public Library provides outstanding library services, resources, and programs that meet the educational, recreational, cultural, and informational needs of library users in its two locations.
